

Global Restructuring and Territorial Development

By Jeffrey Henderson, Manuel Castells

SAGE Publications Ltd. Paperback. Book Condition: new. BRAND NEW, Global Restructuring and Territorial Development, Jeffrey Henderson, Manuel Castells, The essays in this book provide the elements for a new theory of spatial development to explain the new socio-territorial reality produced by global restructuring in the 1970s and 1980s. The contributors all account for the contemporary territorial units by focusing on global economic dynamics and the history of particular places. The book looks at restructuring in the automobile and electronics industries; the significance of migrant labour and the informal economy; the consequences of female proletarianization in Southeast Asia; the implications for regional development of the incorporation of Mexico and Malaysia in the world economy; the internationalization of commercial capital and the development of financial centres; and, the connection between global restructuring and urban politics in the United States.

This work makes a contribution to our understanding of both the processes of global restructuring and their consequences for urban and regional development - Bulletin of Science, Technology and Society. makes a useful contribution both theoretically and empirically - International Journal of Urban and Regional Research. Polycentric territorial development policy should foster the territorial competitiveness of the EU territory also outside the core "Pentagon area"™. We encourage cities to form networks in an innovative manner, which may allow them to improve their performance in European and global competition and promote economic prosperity towards sustainable development. (31) We consider that the integration of territories through territorial cooperation can be an important factor in fostering global competitiveness. In this way, potentials such as valuable natural, landscape and cultural heritage, city networks and labour markets divided by borders can be better utilized. Home. Global restructuring and territorial development. ed. by Jeffrey Henderson ... Structural transformation to take off economy in developing nations : research on theory and practice in Vietnam. The long-term development paths of cities and regions are shaped by a never-ending process of restructuring, with some cities and regions achieving fast growth over long period while others lock into a trajectory of relative and sometimes absolute decline. Nonetheless, in some cases, some lagging regions and cities find renewed growth and previously vibrant cities and regions may lose momentum. It appears that economic restructuring benefit some cities and regions and puts others at a disadvantage.
