D-Day, which could have been one of history's bloodiest disasters, became instead one of its greatest victories. How this astonishing surprise was achieved is the subject of Bodyguard of Lies, one of the most exciting volumes ever written about the Second World War. Telling the most complete story of the biggest and most complicated intelligence operation in the history of war, Bodyguard of Lies presents a large and fascinating cast of heroes and rogues and sweeps through dozens of dramatic stories of plot and counterplot, stealth and treachery, lies and deceptions. Bodyguard of Lies is the fourteenth episode of Season Two. It is the twenty-seventh episode of the series overall. While preparing for battle, Clarke and Lexa have a heated discussion. Desperate for help, Raven has Wick summoned to the engineering room. Jaha and Murphy encounter a perilous roadblock. Meanwhile, at Mount Weather, Bellamy is in a race against time. Charlie Matthau Set To Direct Bodyguard Of Lies™, True WWII Story About Chicken Farmer Turned Double Agent Against Nazis. By Pete Hammond. Pete Hammond. Awards Columnist/Chief Film Critic. @DeadlinePete. The film will be produced under the name Bodyguard of Lies, and tells the incredible true story of Juan Pujol Garcia, a failed Spanish chicken farmer who, incredibly, became one of the greatest, if not the most successful, spies of World War II, whose deceptive work saved what is estimated at about 14 million lives. Reuben Sack, Justin Parker, Bradley McManus and Matthau are writing the screenplay, with plans to film on location in Lisbon, Madrid and London. It will be a co-production between O'Dell's Babieka Films and The Matthau Company. The tag line 'The extraordinary true story behind D-Day' hints at only small part of the amazing content of this masterpiece by Anthony Cave Brown. It was first published in 1972 and my early and tattered copy is a treasured possession. The story of D-Day has been told from the point of view of the soldiers who fought in it, the tacticians who planned it, and the generals who led it. But this epic event in world history has never before been told from the perspectives of the key individuals in the Double Cross System. The D-Day invasion would be protected and supported by a comprehensive, worldwide deception campaign, a body of lies to shield the truth: in a tip of the hat to Churchill's remark, it was codenamed "Bodyguard". The central aim of Operation Bodyguard was to fool the Germans into believing the invasion was coming at a point where it was not, and that it was not coming in the place where it was. D-Day, which could have been one of history's bloodiest disasters, became instead one of its greatest victories.
