Description:

This cutting-edge sourcebook for teachers provides a comprehensive vision of effective second/foreign language teaching and explores ways to create meaningful interaction leading to emergent participatory language teaching. The fourth edition of Making It Happen presents a cyclic approach to theory and practice, in which theory and practice constantly inform each other.

It's a great book for an ESL/TESL teacher that focus on participatory teaching and encourages the teacher to reflect upon his/her own teaching. Besides, there are many good examples that help the teacher to think about a better lesson plan. The article is devoted to the importance and opportunities of using interactive technologies in English language teaching according to modern requirements. As we know, modern education is not just training, but the formation of personality, individual with formed competencies, not just trained, a person who is able to think critically, to give his assessment of the events taking place in the world. What we give our students should be necessary and useful to them. They are not interested in doing and training things they will never come across in their real life or work situations. They want to This issue has articles on communicative language teaching, project work, team teaching, interactive grammar, creative writing techniques, and a feature article on a popular American sport.
